Tent Installation

The tent crew must be notified of any underground utilities such as water, electrical, fiber optic, telephone, or sewage lines in order to avoid damage and risk of life to all parties involved. Installation of a tent must be done correctly for the protection of the users, the tent, and ultimately the success of your event. Therefore, it is our strict policy that all installations and takedowns are done by our experienced crews. All prices quoted will include these services.

Preparation for Installation and Takedown

The first step our crews take installing a tent is to spread it flat on the ground where it is to go up. Please have the area completely clear of obstructions before we arrive at the job-site. Before takedown, all decorations and non-leased equipment should be removed from the tent and any fasteners must be removed from tables, chairs, and tent poles. Failure to remove attachments will result in repair/repaint/removal charges.

Asphalt Installation

Erecting a tent on an asphalt surface is a routine operation requiring that we drive steel stakes approximately 3 1/2 feet long and 1 1/8 inch in diameter through the surface. We can fill the holes with blacktop plugs made specifically to patch asphalt immediately after the stakes are removed for an additional fee. There will be minimal damage to the asphalt.

Concrete Installation

When a tent is installed on a concrete surface, we must drill holes through the concrete in order to stake or install other fasteners. Upon removal, we can patch the holes in several different ways for an additional fee.

Water Barrel Installation

Water Barrels are not substantial enough to anchor tents securely and we do not offer them as a primary method for anchoring tents.

Tables, Chairs & Accessories

Rental fees for tables and chairs do not include set up or knock down, unless previous arrangements have been made.

Furniture must be knocked down and stacked in one sheltered area for pick up. If furniture is not knocked down and stacked when crew arrives, additional charges will be applied.

Permits

It is the responsibility of the renter to check with your Building Permit and Fire Departments prior to the installation date to confirm the requirement of permits and obtain any necessary permits. We will assist you in any way possible, but these clearances do remain the sole responsibility of the renter.
